Scarlet Fever or Small Pox Remedy.

A correspondent writes as follows: I herewith append a recipe which has been used to my knowledge, in a hundred cases. It will prevent or cure the small pox; though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered cow pox in England, the world of science hurried an avalanche upon his head, but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe as a panacea for small pox, it passed unheeded. It is as unfailing as fate and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure the scarlet fever. Here is the recipe as I have used it, and cured my children of scarlet fever. Here it is as I used it to cure small pox; when learned physicians said the patient must die, it cured:

"Sulphate of zinc, one grain; fox-glove (digitalis) seeds, half a tablespoonful of sugar. Mix with two tablespoonfuls of water: when thoroughly mixed add four ounces of water. Take a tablespoonful every hour."

Either scarlet fever or small pox disappears in twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses, according to age. If counties would compel their physicians to use this there would be no need of pest houses. If you value advice and experience use this for that terrible disease.

A despatch from Nevada City, dated 15th instant, says: A man by the name of Matt. Young seriously, probably fatally stabbed Thomas Stewartson on Main street, at 8 o'clock this evening. Stewartson received four wounds about the breast and body. Young was under the influence of liquor. No other cause is known for the commission of the crime. Both men are miners of this place. Young is now lodged in the county jail.

E. T. McCausland, Treasurer of Trinity county, settled with the State Saturday, paying $980.62; Geo. Turner, Treasurer of Merced county, also settled, paying in $10,970.83. Turner received from the State, for the support of common schools in his county, $8,203.08.

Selling Out.
Selling out! Selling out! Our entire stock of Dry Goods below cost, as we intend to return to keep only Clothing, Gent's Furnishings, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, and all that pertains to gentlemen's wear. We therefore offer to our patrons and the public in general the greatest bargain in Dry Goods since the war. For further information, call at the Bazaar, corner of Main and Requena streets, opposite the U. S. Hotel. jef

If you have not yet seen those magnificent Key Chairs for the Union Club Rooms, you should go and see them, by all means, at Johanneus & Grosser's Furniture Warehouses, corner Main and Commercial streets, upstairs. jef

Borrowing Money.
Borrowing money upon the installment plan is attended with these advantages: The loan can be repaid in small monthly amounts which include the interest and part of the principal, so that the borrower can continue to use the money as long as he wishes. The money is not so great as in ordinary loans, and it is borrowed upon good paying property that is in the borrower's hands. The monthly payments will meet the monthly interest and in time pay off the debt.
For further and other particulars enquire of W. H. J. BROOKS, Agent for Savings and Loans, No. 12 Spring street. jef

Arrival.
Mr. John A. Rothbald has arrived and is prepared to sell money at 1 percent per month, in sums of $200 to $500. Applications should be received at the office of W. H. J. BROOKS, corner Spring and Temple streets, Alameda building, upstairs. jef

Meats. A. J. Johnson & Co. have removed to the corner of Temple and Spring streets, Alameda building, rooms 1, 2, 3 and 4. jef

Just received by S. Hellman, about 20 different styles of babies' carriages, direct from the Eastern factory, which we will sell very low. jef

Johanneus & Grosser do the best and neatest upholstering and cabinet work in Southern California. They have a large stock of goods in their line, give them a call. They are reasonable in their charges, and keep all kinds of Furniture and Bedding in their warehouse. Johanneus's building, Main street, corner Commercial. jef

Now to Your Time.

Now is your time! No such chance again in one hundred years. The Bazaar is selling out their entire stock of Dry Goods 25 percent below cost, as they intend giving up their dry goods business. This is the only time in the history of the Bazaar that they are selling out their entire stock of Dry Goods, as you will find out by calling at the Bazaar, corner of Main and Requena streets, opposite the U. S. Hotel. jef

$500 Reward.
S. Nordlinger, the Jeweler, on Commercial street, offers the above reward to any parties who can prove that he does not keep the finest and largest stock of Watches, Diamonds and Jewelry in this town. He would also be inclined to give a reward to any party who would form the public at large that he does not keep any plated or Cheap John jewelry in his house. He also will sell till further notice 4 oz. silver Bartlett Waltham Watches at $30; 14 karat gold Gents' Chains at $1.10 a pennyweight; Watch Crystals at 25 cents each. In fact, he will sell 25 percent cheaper than any other house in this town. For further information call at his store, No. 3 Commercial street, and examine his fine stock of goods. jef

Mr. Ed. Dupuy has established a stable and feed yard at Old Santa Monica for the accommodation of the public. He has a large stock of hay, straw, and corn, and will care for all animals at moderate prices. Mr. Dupuy also has a lively connection with his establishment, and will keep some fine rigs to let. jef

If you want a good comfortable bed to sleep in, and which adapts itself to a person's body, you should get one of Johanneus & Grosser's new kind of spring beds. They are made of steel, and are the best made in the world for wear, easiest to handle and give more comfort than any other bed made. See it for yourself at their furniture warehouse, Main street, corner Commercial, up stairs. jef

Educational.
On Monday, June 7th, at the Spring street school house, Mrs. F. A. Parker will open a school for a term of seven weeks; term to close one week before the re-opening of the public schools. ## Los Angeles Herald.

SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1875.

WHEN we said the Express was working against the interests of Los Angeles with the zeal of a well paid attorney, we did not mean to say that it was in the pay of the "Coming City" speculators; but the haste with which it twists our language into such a charge and then denounces the ghost of its own raising, gives rise to the suspicion that it expects a retainer from the "Coming City" fathers.

By its espousal of the cause of the "Coming City" San Francisco bluffers, the Express has placed itself in an awkward position, from which it is trying to extricate itself by charging that the HERALD is fighting the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad. This is too thin. The HERALD has done more toward inaugurating and carrying out that enterprise than the Express ever can do. What we have done and what we propose continuing to do, is to expose the scheme of a lot of unscrupulous speculators who are flooding the country with statements that Los Angeles does not meet the commercial wants of Southern California, and that they are going to destroy her by building a city of one hundred thousand inhabitants at Santa Monica. These statements are false and are intended to injure Los Angeles and to delude people into buying lots where there never will be a town. There is a difference between building a railroad to Los Angeles and moving Los Angeles down to Santa Monica's sheep ranch. The HERALD wants to build the railroad, but the Express advocates the moving.

WHEN the fierce Scipio Africanus gave utterance to the memorable words Carthage sit delenda, it was in the interest of Rome he spoke and he was flushed with ardent patriotism. The Express may try to ridicule the alarm of the HERALD at the danger that threatens Los Angeles. It was no coinage of the HERALD, it was simply reproducing the sound of the first gun fired by the modern stock broker, financier, Solon, Lycurgus and Sage Brusher, the morning after his return from his ice factories and deals on Wall street. The Express man may try to laugh it off but let him rest assured that he will find, perhaps to his cost, that we have had a little too much Santa Monica served up for breakfast, dinner and supper. If they have faith in Santa Monica, let them cry Carthage sit delenda; do like other birds, foul their own nests, seek a home with the Saint, wait for the title of the Sheep Ranch to be settled, and sell the few lots they are getting for their blow. The stockholders subscribers and patrons of the Express are pretty sick, and there is no disguising the fact. Americans are very conservative and say but little, but when they act they act with vigor and rapidity.

Harvest Hands Scarce—Why?

From the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys—the great wheat fields of the State—comes the report that labor is scarce and harvest hands difficult to obtain in sufficient numbers to meet the demand. To the person not familiar with the California mode of doing things, this would imply a scarcity of farm labor, yet such is not to a great extent the case. There ought to be, and we believe there are, plenty of men in this State to harvest the present crop at reasonable wages and without the loss of a single bushel of grain. But it is difficult to get the requisite number of good hands at the proper time, and there are two causes for it. One is found among the laborers and the other among the farmers. As a general thing, the harvesting in California is done by men who do no work the year round except during the six weeks or two months of haying and harvesting. They expect to be paid as much for this two months as the average farm laborer receives for the whole twelve months. As the haying season sets in, hundreds of great stout fellows sally out into the country from San Francisco, and with the sacking of the last bag of wheat they return to their old haunts in the city to idle away their time until the commencement of next year's haying. They have no thought of remaining on the farm from harvest to harvest. The offer of thirty dollars per month the year round is no inducement to leave the old loafing places in the city. They only work during harvest—the period of the year when their services are in such demand that the farmer will pay almost any wages to get them. This is the laborer. Now for the farmer. The great wheat grower of California does some foolish things. One of these is never to hire a man until he cannot do without him and then treat him as an inferior, a serf or a coolie, while he has him. The visitor to a large wheat ranch during harvest will at night find dozens of men rolled up in their own blankets sleeping in header beds, under wagons and in hay sheds. If he will go to the breakfast table in the morning he will find the men standing around an elevated platform from which they are eating the coarsest food prepared by a cheap Chinaman in the most uninviting style. He will find that these men are called from their blankets at the earliest dawn and kept in the field until darkness renders impossible for further labor. The moment a man's services can be dispensed with he is discharged. Can there be a kindness of feeling or harmonious action between such laborers and such employers? There is nothing save the wages to induce the man to remain on the farm, and he leaves when he can no longer command exorbitant remuneration for his services. He says he is fed and housed like a pig, worked like a slave and treated like an inferior. The policy of the farmer is to pay the man who works for him two months during harvest about what he should pay him for half the year. There is a remedy for this expensive evil. When laborers learn that it is more profitable to farm all the year than to remain on the farm all the year at fair wages than to exact exorbitant pay for two months and idle away the remaining ten in penury and want, and when the wheat grower discovers that it is better and more money making to pay a good man thirty dollars per month, and treat him as an intelligent being all the year round, than to pay him four dollars per day for two months, farmers will commence harvest full handed and there will be fewer abject men loafing ten months in every year around the streets of San Francisco. These may be said to be extreme pictures and we admit that they are, but there is enough truth in them to convey an important lesson to both laborers and farmers.

LETTER FROM ARTESIA.

Artesian Water—Douglas Walker's Well—Engineer Justice Successful—Prospect of the Colony.
EDITOR HERALD: Having been spending some little time in this section of the country with a view to permanently settling here, it became a duty as well as a pleasure to chronicle such events as may interest intending settlers and redound to the credit of the settlement.

ARTESIAN WATER.
The particular event I wish to refer to is the obtaining of a very fine flow of artesian water on the ranch of Mr. Douglas Walker, whose residence is upon Coyote Creek, about two miles Northeast of the Artesia school-house.

GAREY'S WELL.
Among the numerous fine strikes of water tapped within the last year or two all over this district, that of Mr. Garey, West of the school-house, has, I think, until this time held the pre-eminence. It is now, however, destined to hide its diminished head and to pale its waning splendor before the sister fountain which it was my fortune to behold spring into life this morning under the persevering efforts and able management of Mr. Justice, who is reputed to be the most skillful well borer in this section of the country. The pipe after being cut to only one-half of the possible distance, produced a stream of water which, by the measuring rule, rose and spouted a full five inches above the centre of the orifice, before the eyes of the delighted proprietor, who was at last constrained to cry, "Hold, enough!" fearing, it is to be presumed, a deluge on his land.

ENGINEER JUSTICE.
This is another feather in the cap of Mr. Justice, the courteous and painstaking engineer of the concern, who, as report goes, has obtained fuller wells and more of them than his efficient competitors in Los Angeles county. It also speaks well for the country in general, as such strikes make the settlers practically independent of rain and render farming or fruit raising a sure thing.

EDITORIAL.

EDITOR HERALD: In alluding to the growing importance of New Zealand and its rapid progress in mineral, agricultural and commercial development, it will probably appear to those not familiar with the country that the statistics contained in the Superintendent's address allude to the whole of New Zealand, instead of one Province. The Government of New Zealand is a good imitation of the United States form of government, inasmuch as each of the nine Provinces are entrusted with local legislation, the work of a Provincial Assembly, and the duty of that body is to allocate all monies expended on Provincial works, and to submit to the General Assembly of New Zealand such amendments and modifications of existing laws as may be considered necessary for the public good. Each Province is governed by a Superintendent, who is elected for a certain term, and the affairs of the Province are administered by an Executive Council. In fact, the Provinces are mimic representatives of governments one million times their superior in importance. As dependencies of Great Britain, one anomaly exists, and that is—each colony is represented by a non-elective Governor, appointed by the home government. He may be a wise man or a fool, or a pauper aristocrat, with no other recommendation than his foolish notion of superior birth. The people have no voice in choosing him and are compelled to pay his salary; but even that the Colonists are becoming too intelligent to bear and are already advocating the abolition of all sinecures. I am, sir, yours,

R. W. NUTTALL.

TERRIFIC FIGHT.

The Sheriff of Ellis County, Kansas, Killed by a Horse-Thief—He Kills the Thief Before Giving up the Fight.

From a gentleman who came in on the Kansas Pacific road yesterday afternoon, we learn the following particulars of a desperate fight which occurred near Stockton, Rooks county, Kansas, between Alexander Ramsey, Sheriff of Ellis county, and a horse-thief whose name was not known, and which resulted in the death of both the Sheriff and the thief.
It appears that Mr. Ramsey, accompanied by his deputy, Frank Shepherd, were en route from Hays City to Rooks county to take possession of some goods which had been captured from car-thieves on the 19th of May. While on their way they STUCK THE TRAIL.

Of some horse-thieves, who had about twenty ponies. The Sheriff overtook two of the thieves on the afternoon of the 7th, in the vicinity of Stockton, where part of the stock had been sold, and riding up demanded of one of them to throw up his hands. The demand was not heeded. On the other hand, the thief commenced making preparations for battle. The Sheriff, who was an excellent shot and a man of great nerve, opened fire and

GOT HIS MAN.
The thief returned the fire, his shot striking Mr. Ramsey in a vital spot, and then dropped behind his horse to protect himself, but not in time to evade the bullets, three in number, which were sent with unerring aim from the Sheriff's pistol. The smoke from Ramsey's pistol had not cleared away before both parties fell—the Sheriff from loss of blood and mortally wounded, while the thief fell from his horse.

A DEAD MAN.

The other thief, who had started rapidly away when the light opened, was hotly pursued by Mr. Shepherd, who was on his trail at last accounts and is still pursuing. Mr. Ramsey lived about an hour after being wounded, and yesterday his remains were taken back to his home at Hays City, where he has a wife and child residing.

The Sheriff was a young man, about 28 years of age and has been holding his office since he was twenty-one. He was a terror to marauders and thieves, having

KILLED QUITE A NUMBER.

During his terms of office. He is said to have been a man of great nerve and was greatly beloved by the law-abiding people of his county. In his death Ellis county has lost a faithful and brave official, whose place it will be difficult to fill. A number of railroad officials and friends of the deceased have started on the track, and there is no doubt but that the rogue who made his escape will yet be captured.

THIS FELLOW.

Gave his name as Stanley and is described as being about six feet in height, sharp featured, with dark complexion and small black whiskers and moustache. These two men belonged to a large and well organized band of desperate thieves, who have for a long time been committing their depredations in Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri. It is to be hoped that the respective States will take some interest in the matter and make it an object to pursue the marauders to their death and thus rid the country of a class of men who are worse than the wolves that roam the prairies.—Kansas City Journal.

A California Miner on the Black Hills.

CHICAGO, June 15th.—A Time's Sioux City special says a miner named Z. Swearingin, well known in California and Colorado as an old miner for over twenty years, arrived here from the Black Hills to-day. He and a party of seven others went to the five on the steamer Josephine in April last. They left the river at old Fort Pierre and crossed over to the Hills. Upon arrival there they came upon a party of nine others, who were mining in the Hills with guns, axes, and tools. They were making from three to five per day, digging, Swearingin came out after supplies and brought a quantity of gold and gold quartz with him. He says it is the best country he ever struck. He has staked out his claim west of the old stockade.

Digging Up the Hatchet.

OMAHA, June 17.—Information received at the head quarters of the district of the Platte last evening states that a war party of about seventy-five Indians was seen on the 14th inst., sixty miles south of Camp Josephine. They were supposed to be going south. The commanding officer at Sidney was ordered to hold his command in readiness to move at once as soon as he hears of Indians in this neighborhood. The Indians were every man he could put in the saddle, overtake and kill them if he could. If any surrender, he is to bring them in. Nothing has been heard of them yet.

That Mail Contract.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The Tribune's Washington Special says the trail of Hinds, the mail contractor, charged with corrupting Government officials, is making rapid progress. The indications are that he will escape conviction on technicalities. The officials of the Postoffice Department are in doubt as to whether there is any law covering the case, and the local prosecuting officers have not been very vigorous in the prosecution. Hinds threatens serious things if convicted. He says that he will not go before the bars alone.

Tweed Discharged.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The official discharge of Tweed arrived from Albany last night, but at the request of his counsel he will not be released before Saturday. Probably the object of his counsel is to obtain the necessary bail in the criminal suit to follow, and thus permit him to return to his family without being again consigned to jail.

San Francisco Items.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18th.—The ship Champlain, Merrill master, from New York for this port, consigned to George Howes & Co., struck the North Farallones about 7 o'clock last night, and sunk in a few moments. The Captain and one seaman were lost. The remainder of the ship's company seeped in boats and were picked up by the schooner Mendocino, which arrived here this morning. The Champlain was a ship of about fifteen hundred tons, and was loaded with a general cargo.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18th.—The Centennial of Bunker Hill was celebrated yesterday by a general display of bunting in this city and amongst the shipping. There was a picnic at Belmont, under the auspices of the Bunker Hill Association. It was very largely attended. The Summer Guard escorted the excursionists and had a shooting match at the grounds for a company prize.
In the evening Union Hall was crowded to hear an oration by General M. G. Cobb. A poem was read by W. M. Leman and other musical and literary exercises were interspersed.
The Tuolumne Association celebrated the day by an excursion to Ranger's Park, Brooklyn. There were speeches, games, etc.

San Bernardino Items.

[From the Argus of June 18th.]

An enterprise is now on foot to build a wagon road from San Bernardino to the Colorado, which will cut off 150 miles between this place and Prescott. Mr. C. D. Putnam has surveyed the route and says that with a little pecuniary assistance from the public he can open the road in a very short time. This enterprise is of great importance to San Bernardino, and should be looked after. The projected road passes within thirty miles of the famous McCracken mine.

We understand, from a gentleman just from Panamint, that Judge Murphy, of that place, committed suicide a few days ago by cutting his throat with a razor—and a dull one, too. Jim-jams the cause.

[From the Guardian, 17]

Quite a serious accident occurred at the new building being erected by Mrs. Willis, on Tuesday. A workman fell from the second story, and was picked up in an insensible condition. He was injured internally.

At the Arcade Saloon, is one of the queerest articles of pottery, etc., that I have seen. It is a small vessel, nearly as large as a modern jug; composed of burnt clay, and nicely finished. It was found in an Arizona mound at a depth of about 100 feet. It is unquestionably a relic of the Aztec age. Perhaps, one of the Imperial Montezumas himself, may have used it in the service of his kitchen? The jug is certainly a curiosity; and worthy of preservation in an antique museum.

San Bernardino Items.

[From the Guardian, June 16th.]

Mr. Goldsmith was arraigned in the District Court on Monday and allowed two days in which to plead. From Mr. Wood, who visited us yesterday, we learn that the crops on the Rincon will turn out splendidly. Both wheat and barley are excellent. The wheat harvest has commenced, the reapers going constantly. Haying all over the crop heavy. More wheat on the Rincon than ever before.

Deputy Sheriff Wood arrived in town on Monday night, having in charge Louis Bourharke, a Spanish horse-thief, charged with stealing cattle from Mr. Scully. The fellow displayed considerable capacity in evading justice, but he was no match for the untiring and penetrating skill of Sheriff Wood, who hunted him down after a three days' arduous chase on the Santa Anita ranch, Los Angeles county. Another arrest was made in connection with this offense; but the man was, after investigation, turned over.

All the concreters on the Mare Island Dry Dock were suspended on Saturday, with the exception of two men.
